Of course, many parents can't afford the only treatment facilities available in most areas: psychiatrists at $50 to $100 a. visit and private, in-patient clinics at $500 to $1500, per month.

One way to reduce high treatment cost is to establish publicly-supported clinics and to employ non-professionals for work they can do as well as highly-paid, and scarce, professionals doing the work now.

Officials Should Lift the Inappropriate Ban On Highway Construction In This Area

No n Highway Construction In This Area

With the state and federal Republican administrations settling into their tasks following the inaugural festivities, the time has arrived for Governor Ogilvie and Senators Dirksen and Percy to do all in their power to persuade federal authorities to lift the ban on federally-aided rad building in Madison and St. Clair counties.

About $4 million was lost last year and $30 million in federal funds is destined to be diverted to other areas this year despite our huge backlog of highway needs and our tragic and costly traffic collision toll.

The complaints in 1968 about high costs and low minority employment appear to have much validity. But the point is that the spending freeze is inappropriate.

It is ineffective, because the public and even the parties involved have no clear or rapid way to eliminate cost differences ($4.31 vs.
$6.17 in statewide vs. Highway District Eight turb and gut ter unit costs, and $99.74 vs.
$15.6.37 per cubic yard of "class X" concrete are two examples). And the construction ban is unfair because it affects every resident and

The U.S. Justice Department alleges that Operating Engineers Local 520 has no non-whites among 1124 members, that Electrical Workers Local 399 has two of 910 and that Plasterers and Common among 14 apprentice masons. But lack of interest could be part of the problem, and in any case the suit against the three unions presumably will achieve a just verdict.

The issues are clear. Solutions are less

The issues are clear. Solutions are less clear, but the spotlighting of the situation through the freeze order may serve to make remedies more attainable.

Now that everyone is aware of the prob-lem, punishment that affects the innocent as well as guilty cannot be justified. New federal officials with jurisdiction in the matter should

How to have electric heat—and keep your cool.

PLACE AND PICK UP YOUR

Both electric heating and air conditioning can be yours with a single unit called the Electric Furnace. In winter, it circulates warm air to every area of your home. In summer, simply move the thermostat to the "Cool" side and enjoy the benefits of central air conditioning.

The Electric Furnace is just one of the ways you can enjoy clean, quiet electric heat. More and more families in Illinois Power territory are discovering this modern type of comfort. Ask our heating representative for the straight facts on how you can enjoy electric heat and still keep your cool.
